Dear friends of Yiddish Summer,

Without a major financial sponsor like the EU, we are forced to depend on workshop fees this year to make Yiddish Summer Weimar 2010 possible.

Although we need more total income from workshop fees, it's very important to us that people with less money can still participate. So we're trying something new. We've created a 3-tier fee structure for each workshop: a "standard" fee that we consider a fair price for most participants, a "reduced" fee for those who have less money, and a "supporter" fee for those of you who can afford a little more and want to help support Yiddish Summer Weimar this way.

We ask each of you to decide for yourself which fee you can afford and hope that you will be as generous as possible.
